

Christmas Bone-in Hams Wrapped Ennio-Style

Ennio International, Australia's leading netting & innovative casing specialists continue with their new innovations strategy to bring new designs, applications and products of a world class standard to their valued Australian customers.

One such application is the combination of Ennio Diamond-Net and Ennio Smoke-Net which makes for an attractive Christmas ham package, offering additional savings and benefits above other bone-in ham preparations.

Ennio Diamond-Net is a diamond-shaped elastic netting which is applied under Ennio Smoke-Net for cooking, ultimately providing the traditional Christmas ham appearance your customers are looking for. Diamond-Net can be left on, or can be removed where the deep netting indentations remain providing a quality table presentation. Available in both small and large diamond patterns to fit any tube diameter.

Ennio Smoke-Net affords a yield improvement of up to 5%*, it retains moisture whilst cooking so the junction of meat and bone doesn't dry out and crack at the hock.

The Smoke-Net product is used extensively in the United States specifically for the yield gain, one Company alone produces seven (7) million bone-in hams in Smoke-Net during the Christmas period.

Due to the robust strength of the fabric, hams can be hung from Smoke-Net eliminating the need for additional hanging net requirements (as shown in diagram 1) and is available in a variety of sizes.

Smoke-Net also keeps the shape of the meat, giving a rounded base for a better slicing ham. With excellent smoke penetration and colour resulting in a softer, more tender bite, yet another attraction for your customers.

Ennio remains unique in providing specialist netting and casing solutions to the industry, with over two decades of experience, their wide range of products for every application and their conduit to world class technology enabling their customers to produce quality products which set them apart from their competitors.
